Subject objectives	In the selected location, make a conceptual design of a single-family residential house in the form of buildings: a detached house or an atrium, terraced house or terrace as part of a complex.
Learning outcomes	Course outcome	Subject outcome			Method of verification
	[K6_U02] is able to design an architectural object or a simple urban complex that meets the aesthetic and technical requirements	Students are able to identify architectural principles and proportions. Students are able to generate a concept for a design approach.
	[K6_W02] knows and understands the rules of gathering information and their interpretation as a part of project concept preparation; issues related to architecture and urban planning in the field of simple design problems solving	Students are able to produce manually ideas through coordinated drawings and models.
	[K6_U03] is able to prepare a graphic, written and oral presentation of your own design concepts in the field of architecture and urban planning, meeting the requirements of a professional record appropriate for architectural and urban design	Students are able to develop a design project from a specific concept.
Subject contents	This course builds upon the theoretical knowledge gained in the foundation studios, through a concrete application of conceptual and perceptual analysis of design problems of small and medium scale of a family house. The relationship between body and space is at the heart of the studio, and is explored through a design process that aims at translating design concepts into an architectural form. The studio places an emphasis on the development of representational tools, specifically drawing, in translating ideas into architectural drawings and models.
Prerequisites and co-requisites	Skills acquired in semester 1 and semester 2 in the field of architectural design and graphic presentation. Knowledge in the field of architectural design of single-family residential buildings.
